NEW YORK, July 8.

Gold has been quite active to-day, quotations ranging from 130 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 140.

The steamer Burruss took out to-day and compound interest notes are in considerable request from the country, and buyers of those of June are selling at 26 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. premium; those of July at 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.; the August notes at 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., and those of September at 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. No compound interest notes were issued, and those of later dates still pass as currency.

Several thousand spectators assembled this morning to witness the launch of the new screw steamer Madawaska, built at the Brooklyn navy yard by Mr. F. Delano. She is one of the new first-class vessels ordered in 1863, and from the work done for her lines, it seems as if she will make the promised speed of fifteen knots an hour.

The launch was a complete success and was witnessed over by Admiral Bell, and by Mr. Lincoln, General-in-Chief Jewett. The ceremony of christening was performed by Miss Delano.

The Post's Washington special says the body of Mrs. Surratt, Payne, Atzerodt, and Harrold will remain in the ground to which they were consigned yesterday. The graves are guarded by sentinels. The military authorities had not decided, this morning, whether or not the remains should be disinterred, and then buried. Mord, O'Laughlin, Arnold and Spangler will be taken to the penitentiary at Albany on Monday.

The office of the President is much better. He attended a long session of the cabinet last evening. Secretary Seward was also present.

Gen. Slough has been relieved from his duties as governor of Alexandria and ordered to Columbus.

The Times' account of the execution says that Harrold made a statement yesterday to the effect that in the original plot his purpose was to burn the theatre and he had once rehearsed part with Booth. Afterwards, however, he was required only to be in waiting near the navy yard bridge to assist Booth in his escape.

Payne, the night before the execution, said, as far as he knew, Mrs. Surratt had nothing to do with the murder.

NEW YORK, July 8.

The steamers City of Boston and Virginia, for Liverpool, and the Burruss, for New York, sailed to-day with a large number of passengers, but only $1,500 in specie.

The Express says some forty suits against Baker, the government detective, are now on trial. Ex-Record Smith.

Several affidavits are now being sworn that persons were released who had been summarily arrested by paying over various sums, varying from $50 to $3,000.

A sum of $1,000, the one hundred and twenty thousand dollars, was divided between one Stanly and others, employed by Baker.

The steamer Star of the Union, from New Orleans, July 1st, arrived yesterday. Among her passengers is Paul Morris.

The Commercial's Washington special says Gen. Sickles has reported the results of his secret mission to South America, but as his nature will not be made public yet.

CHICAGO, July 8.

Judge Davis, in the supreme court, gave decision to-day in the case of Wadsworth vs. Northwestern railroad, refusing to sustain either of the two suits, and the result was that the company will hold no more than $100,000 in the hands of the court.

No orders will be given relative to the payment of the money.
